

TAE50216 Diploma of Training Design & Development

What is this course about?

The Diploma of Training Design and Development focuses on the development of training programs and resources.

Who should do this course?

This qualification is suitable for people working in roles of training developers and instructional designers who are responsible for analysing training needs and designing training solutions and products to meet workplace capability requirements, and evaluating the effectiveness of training programs. They may have a role in providing guidance and advice to trainers and assessors, promoting innovative practices, e.g. e-learning, and in researching and incorporating best practice in training and assessment into training programs and products.

Why should I do this course with ETAS Group?

ETAS Group uses its 20 years' experience working with mining and construction organisations to contextualise qualifications to meet your business requirements. Our courses maximise class time – meaning minimal or only essential criteria need to be completed outside of class.

This leads to instant return on investment as outcomes are immediately achieved while providing minimal disruption to production related activities.

When and where is the course run?

Onsite at your workplace: We can work with your team to develop a schedule that works for you (minimum numbers apply).

Structured Self-Paced/ Assessment Only: You will be assigned a trainer who will work with you through the content to develop a portfolio of evidence.

How do I enrol?
